

THE CHIEFS, B.C.

WATKINS TREK WAS PLAN TO SET UP AN ANTI-SOVIET

Scheme Provided for Holding Him As Hostage, Bennett Tells Victoria Audience.

VICTORIA, Sept. 23.—Behind the recent march on Ottawa of relief camp strikers and sympathizers lay a plan to hold the Prime Minister of Canada as a hostage while a Soviet government was established in the Dominion, Premier Bennett revealed in an address here.

He said Saturday night had been learned by the government, which, he declared, should have done so long ago, and that the Soviet government would be established by force, when men tried to overthrow constituted authority for licence, they must be stopped.

LAMERS AT REDS
The Premier lashed out at the Communists of Moscow and "their emigrants here." He declared his party would never "transfer to any lawless organization to secure votes."

Pledging his government to the maintenance of law, Bennett declared "Canada will never tolerate interference from the Soviet Union, and that section 98 of the Criminal Code will not be repealed by his government."

HAD HECKLING
At a meeting in a local hall, Mr. Bennett was prompted to deal with Communism, section 98, relief camps, and the Soviet Union.

He said that the freedom of thought and action enjoyed by the people of Canada was a result of the fact that the British Empire, Mr. Bennett said, "if you know any greater freedom, you know it."

CAMP STATISTICS
Some 116,000 men had passed through relief camps in the last year, he said.

SOVIET INTEND
It had been learned by the government, that the recent march on Ottawa of relief camp strikers and their sympathizers lay a plan to hold the Prime Minister of Canada as a hostage while a Soviet government was established in the Dominion.

BENNETT NOT COMING HERE FOR MEETING
Mr. Bennett said he was not coming to Victoria for the meeting of the British Empire League.

WETASKIWIN, Sept. 23.—Bruce M. Hay of Spokane, Washington, surrendered to his bail of $10,000 to answer the charge of manslaughter at a jury trial in the Wetaskiwin Supreme Court Monday morning. The charge arose out of a car accident on July 19 in which Mrs. Ethel M. Taylor was killed when the car turned over and crashed into a tree after collision with an auto in which several persons were returning to Wetaskiwin.

ROTH FOR JURY

B.C. History Professor Sees Trouble Ahead in Alberta

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—A picture of the "dire results" which would follow adoption of the Alberta Social Credit plan in British Columbia was painted by Professor Henry F. Angus, of the Department of History, University of British Columbia, in a dinner address to the Y.M.C.A. building.

CITY APATHY TO NORTH-LAND IS DEPLORED

better than any other provincial officer holder in Canada that I know of. He was a practical engineer who has given close personal study to the north and its problems and its appointment is a "natural." He is the first man of any experience who has been placed in a position of authority where he can do anything for the north, and the north is congratulating itself on his appointment by Premier Albert," said Col. Cornwall.

AREA MAPPED
As an instance of the importance attached to the Lake Athabasca field by this in authority at Ottawa, Col. Cornwall stated that in the same train which brought him out of the north, a party of 23 geologists and engineers who had been working in the area all summer returned to Ottawa. At least three of the mines department came out to inspect the area, and a large portion of the area.

IS MAJOR FIELD
In addition to the government men, parties of miners and prospectors have been going in and out all summer and there is a big development going on," he said. "The field has all the earmarks of a major field and the individuals and companies who are going in are spending large money on development."

THIS SUMMER MORE THAN 500,000 feet of lumber went in and almost 1,000,000 feet of lumber in addition to about 1,000 tons of fish. This all went into the hands of the government, which purchased them. As much food as the government could get was sent to the north, and the government is taking care of the development that is taking place.

THE SASKATCHEWAN GOVERNMENT is not so much interested in the field, said Col. Cornwall. Albert, he said, they have placed a competent mining engineer in charge of the field, and the mining engineer is a post, a lot of money is being spent on the development that is taking place.

MONTHLY MAIL
The monthly mail is at present inadequate, said Col. Cornwall. At the present time there is only one mail train, and the mail is being carried by the companies and the individuals working in the area have to depend on the mail of the airplane pilots.

IT WASN'T FOR THE GOOD nature of the plan, and the nature of the airplane companies engaged in the work, but the fact that the area we would be out of luck, but fortunately they are not in the area, and they are doing their best to develop it.

THE ABORIGINALS
declared Prof. Angus, proposed to pay for imports of food and other necessities, it was impossible to pay for imports with exports today. And with world trade in its present choked state there is no likelihood that it can be done in the near future.

HE DESCRIBED THE ALBERTA scheme of issuing bonds at 4 per cent as a "bank working back at 4 per cent."

PROF. ANGUS, after outlining principles of the Aborigines' book, said the people of Alberta had been swept by a religious fervor rather than an understanding of economic principles.

HE PREDICTED THE PLAN would lead to bureaucratic control, for the sake of which has never been seen.

TRADE BALANCES ITSELF

In trade matters the Government of Japan is no wiser than our own. Tokyo informs Ottawa that it will remove the tariff on Canadian goods

if Canada removes the tariff on Japanese goods. Otherwise it will not.

If Japan bought Canadian products it could not do so for them, it is its own product.

Whether there came to Canada or were sold in some country which had a credit balance with Canada would make no difference. The result is that Japan would have bought Canadian goods and paid for them with Japanese currency.

The country that admits foreign goods to its market thereby obligates foreign countries to pay its goods to the equivalent value, since it can have no other way of getting the goods collected. The way to get foreign markets is to pay for them. For every dollar's worth of goods imported, there must be an equal amount of Canadian products have to be accepted abroad.

PLENTY TO DO

Hon. George Hoodley, holidaying in Toronto after his happy release from 26 years of public responsibilities, agrees that the Alberta Government should be given "a chance." They certainly need it. Mr. Hoodley and his associates have a heritage of grief that invites compassion.

On the financial front there is another unpleasant situation. The municipal finances occupy the foreground, there is no safety fund to meet demand savings. The city has no money to meet the needs of the city and due and unpaid for, and a bank overdraft of $70,000. The late Ministers seem to have been so busy with their duties that they created a mess for their successors, and have located opportunities with an instinct almost uncanny.

Fortunately for the province, as well as for himself, Mr. Aberhart does not have to depend for support upon a doubtfully sufficient majority of the legislature. He has the right to bring order out of the hush of the night. He has all the chance that could be given him; and he surely needs it.

WHEAT GOES UP

It was bound to happen sooner or later.

Crops being short in Australia, Argentina and the United States, and the international wheat committee having collapsed, the price has gone up.

Canadian farmers who have wheat to sell and dealers who have wheat to buy will benefit. Since the wheat is the largest holder of all, found inside its own borders and those of its present colonial possessions. Like Japan, Italy is suffering from pressure of population; but only because its people have not the opportunity to carry on profitable production.

So long as that disability is maintained, in Italy or elsewhere, it is idle to talk platitudes as a means of procuring peace. A people so situated will not starve quietly till they disturb the serenity of their neighbors. They will try to grab territory in hope of thereby securing markets or resources or both.

Removal of the barriers so effectively raised against international trade would be the economic pressure in Italy and every other country, and give people everywhere a chance to make a living inside the territory they now occupy and control. Economic nationalism is the thing that is driving Italy toward conquest, as it drove Japan to a bloody and costly war of conquest in northern China.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COOPER

Learning to my dismay, how very sensitive some of our Social Credit friends are to references to the task that lies before them, I decided a few days ago not to make any further reference to Alberta Social Credit lest the spirit of the comment be misunderstood.

All impulses made, my mind turned to personal attitude to the victors in the recent provincial election—and I think that I can make it at large—in this: They are in the seats of authority, happily with an ample majority behind them. If they can accomplish even a moiety of what they assert they can, their coming into power will

J. S. Cooper be the greatest blessing that could happen to Alberta. In due course it would benefit the whole of Canada. I want to see them —from motives of self-interest if from no other—get the ample and most unfettered chance to make good.

They have come into office under conditions of great difficulty. Any government coming into office under such conditions cannot be expected to special indulgence, both in the patience of our own people and in treasury consideration of the world. It would be a great mistake to place no obstacles in their way. If they can make their plan work in Alberta it will usher in the dawn of a happier day for the whole of Canada. I think that I can make it work, then we had better find it out here as soon as possible, so that we may seek other remedies.

They must have a fair opportunity. What I can't give intellectual assent to their plan—which may be a mental defect in myself and not in theirs—will be a mental defect in myself

I shall be jealous to see that they are given a fair and full opportunity to test the workability of their plan. I would wholeheartedly resist any attempt to deny them this right.

My attitude might be summed up in the famous dictum of Voltaire to his correspondent,

"I do not believe in what you say, but I shall fight to the death for your right to say it."

Having made that explanation, and with no intention to suggest any implications,

I'm reproducing an item from the Vancouver Daily Province. It is in the column of personal chat by Mr. "Torchy" Anderson. It reads:

Hon. C. C. Ross, new minister of lands and mines for the Province of Alberta, is admitted to be a practical man by the name of Mr. Ross. He is a petroleum engineer for the province when the Federal government considered its natural resources. He is a practical man. There is a little story going the rounds about how he came to be chosen a minister by Premier William Aberhart. We don't know for it, but it is said:

Mr. Ross was sitting at home some days after the election when a visitor arrived.

The visitor introduced himself as William Aberhart. Mr. Ross did not know him by sight.

"Mr. Ross," the new premier is reported to have asked, "How do you stand on Social Credit?"

"Oh," Aberhart, replied Mr. Ross, "I worked and voted for the Liberal party in this election."

apparently not waiting for further consideration of the subject, "would you like to take charge of the department of lands and mines?"

Thinking it was an offer of a deputy-ministry, Mr. Ross asked, "Who will be my minister?"

"I mean you to minister," replied the Premier.

And he is.

If that's all true it shows a commendable desire to procure ability, above and beyond the rank of the opposition.

A few days ago reference was made in this column to complaints of tyrannical conditions in the mining camps. It was pointed out that the Premier of British Columbia had obligation to purchase at arbitrary prices from company stores. In Great Britain such obli-

The Liver

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

The liver is remarkable for three things;

first it is the largest organ in the body; second, it has the largest number of blood vessels carried on by a single organ; third, it has a double blood supply. The most important thing about your liver is that it is absolutely essential to life—you could not live without it.

The liver is a spongy organ and in the adult, weighs between three and four pounds.

It has five lobes and is situated in the upper part of the abdominal cavity on the right side. The liver is highly vascular, which means that it contains blood vessels in abundance, and for this reason it does not lend itself well to surgery since it is difficult to control hemorrhaging. Also, liver tissue does not hold sutures well.

The liver is vital to well-being inasmuch as

REGINA BEARS BEAT CALGARY IN GRID CLASH

Interlocked Forward Is Responsible for Win of Ritchie Squad

CALGARY, Sept. 23.—Regina Roughriders today claimed a new record in Western Canadian rugby football history—a record of intercepting six forward passes in one game. On the first of these, Paul Kipp galloped 40 yards for a touchdown, giving the Riders a quick margin in a 7-1 victory over the Calgary Bears Saturday.

The teams battled in midfield most of the way. Twice in the first half, Regina held possession at the Bears' 15-yard line. Once they lost the ball through a fumble and the second time Paul Kipp booted a drop kick wide but roused the receiver for Calgary's lone point.

Walter "Ole" Olson, big Regina quarterback, who formerly captained the Regina Roughriders, was the star of the game. He played the forward passes and did the kicking. He was tackled by Paul Kipp, from North Dakota, and Ralph Pierce from North Dakota.

Kipp intercepted two forwards and Pierce intercepted two. The Bears had 15-20 yards made the biggest gain of the game, 20 yards, on a kick played by Andy Young.

The game was a rough one, with McKinnon for Regina's own fumble on Olson's twisting punt.
